

altonavi is an info centre and agency for volunteers in Altona.

Information and Support

altonavi provides information about offers within this part of the city and puts you in touch in a targeted manner – with other organisations, self-help groups, government offices or actively involved residents, both men and women. Do you need support? Together with you, we think about how you can find a solution. On your own or with other people's help.

Voluntary Involvement

altonavi is an agency for volunteers serving the district of Altona. All residents receive information about where they can get actively involved. We provide support for neighbourly projects: when the situation deals with neighbours helping each other, both men and women, with voluntary work in organisations and associations, with social involvement at companies.
